

Well, our second Official Newsletter is here! We'll keep this one short and sweet.

Along with other changes, the website has been updated recently with:

- Enhanced Business Listings Search – more than 560 DB entries so far, more to come...
- Online Discussion Board now has separate forums for each main area. Nobody posts yet, though.
- Better administrative pages for easy page/db entry ads.
- Recomposed the entire site into dynamic PHP code for greater extensibility and to eliminate redundancy.
- Many bugs and database typos/errors have been eradicated and the code is now more stable.
- Search section is now IE-compliant.
- New business guide which lists all the basic categories.
- Decision has been made to keep the classified ads section free indefinitely.
- Some domains have been registered with expansion in mind.

Work is underway to further enhance and debug the business listings, implement a shopping cart for local shopping, create a real estate listings page, implement a form for business owners to submit their businesses to be listed for free plus numerous other enhancements you're sure to enjoy! Web-cams may be added at a later date.

Newsletters will continue to appear every quarter or so and update you on new features/developments. We hope you enjoy RunningSpgs.com and use it as an on-line resource tool.

Thanks for looking!
-The RunningSpgs.com Team